Assets

At each reporting date, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of investment properties and deferred tax assets) to determine whether there is any indication that the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. If such indication exists, then the asset's carrying amount is written down to its recoverable amount.

Goodwill is tested annually for impairment.

For impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that is expected to generate cash flows that are largely independent of the cash flows of other assets. The carrying amount of the cash-generating unit is compared to its recoverable amount. If the carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recognised. The impairment loss is allocated first to goodwill, and then to the other assets in the group on a pro-rata basis.

CGU is the greater of its value in use and fair value less costs of disposal. The value in use is calculated as the present value of the cash flows expected to be received from the asset, discounted at the pre-tax discount rate that reflects the risks specific to the asset. The fair value less costs of disposal is the amount that could be obtained from the disposal of the asset, less the costs of disposal. The recoverable amount is the greater of the value in use and the fair value less costs of disposal. An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The impairment loss is allocated first to goodwill, and then to the other assets in the group on a pro-rata basis.
